Supplement 2-83

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3--The Foreign Agricultural Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture today reported the following recent developments in U.S. agricultural trade:

U.S. AGRICULTURAL EXPORTS

Large world crop supplies, weak foreign demand and a strong U.S. dollar continue to limit U.S. exports. U.S. agricultural exports during December totaled $2.9 billion, down $700 million from the same month a year earlier. Lower prices for wheat, corn and soybeans, and a further drop in wheat shipments accounted for most of the decline in value. Total December exports of 12.7 million tons were 1.2 million below the same month a year earlier. Corn and soybean export volumes, however, showed increases.

Exports during the first quarter (October-December) of fiscal 1983 totaled $8.8 billion, down $2.5 billion from the first quarter of the previous year. Volume during the first quarter also declined sharply to 37.8 million tons, down 6.2 million from a year earlier.

U.S. exports of wheat in December fell 36 percent in volume from last December to 2.4 million tons because of the absence of shipments to the Soviet Union and much lower exports to China. More than 730,000 tons of wheat were shipped to the USSR in December 1981. U.S. wheat exports to China in December were 72 percent lower than the 610,000-ton level in 1981. Wheat export unit values fell 8 percent to $160 per ton, yielding a 41-percent drop in total wheat export value. Wheat export volume for the first quarter of the year was down 33 percent to 7.7 million tons; the value was off 38 percent to $1.2 billion.

U.S. corn exports in December increased 1 percent in volume (compared with last December) to 4.4 million tons, as increased shipments to Japan, Belgium-Luxembourg and Poland more than offset a decline in exports to the Soviet Union. Corn export prices were down 13 percent to $107 per ton, resulting in a 13-percent decline in the value of corn exports. However, corn export prices increased since October 1982, rising 7 percent. Corn export volume for the first quarter of fiscal 1983 was down 6 percent to 12.9 million tons, with value down 22 percent to $1.3 billion compared with the same period a year ago.

Soybean shipments in December rose 22 percent to 2.5 million tons, with larger sales to Spain and Japan, among others. Soybean export prices were down 11 percent to $226 per ton, yielding a 9-percent gain in export value. Soybean export volume from October-December is unchanged from the same period in 1982--7.6 million tons--but value was down 13 percent to $1.7 billion because of lower prices.

Shipments of cotton, rice and poultry meat, among others, were down sharply in both volume and value in December, while the export volume and value of grain sorghum, soybean meal and tobacco, among others, were down slightly. The December export volume and value of wheat flour, beef and cattle hides were up. Both the export volume and value of cattle hides and tobacco were up during the first quarter.

U.S. AGRICULTURAL IMPORTS

U.S. agricultural imports during December 1982--at $1.2 billion--were down 11 percent from the same month a year ago. Import volume for December was also down sharply.

Sugar and tropical product imports of $466 million and oilseeds and products imports of $34 million were down 31 and 20 percent, respectively, from December 1981. Imports of fruit and vegetables ($360 million), livestock and livestock products ($213 million) and grain and feed ($44 million), partially offset the decline with increases of 13, 6 and 21 percent, respectively, from December 1981.

U.S. agricultural imports during the first three months of fiscal 1983 totaled $3.9 billion, down 3 percent from the same period a year earlier. Fruit and vegetable imports of $1.1 billion were up 15 percent from the comparable period in 1981. Orange juice concentrate imports of $110 million were more than double the value of the accumulated three-month period in 1981. The value of coffee imports during October-December 1982 was $806 million, up 13 percent from the same period in 1981. Raw sugar imports--at $260 million--were down 60 percent from the $647-million pace set in October-December 1981.

AGRICULTURAL TRADE BALANCE

U.S. trade activity in December 1982 resulted in an agricultural trade surplus of $1.7 billion, down from the $2.2-billion surplus of December 1981. For the first first quarter of fiscal 1983, the agricultural trade balance posted a surplus of $4.9 billion, down 33 percent from the $7.2 billion recorded for the same period a year earlier.
